

TAKE CONTROL of your stuff, your space, your life.

Eliminate Chaos® can help you get organized.

Imagine

working with a team of Specialists you can trust to turn your house into the comfortable, organized, beautiful home of your dreams.

*If you feel stressed and out-of-control over the time-wasting clutter and mess that surrounds you, ...
Or if you simply want to make more efficient use of your home but lack the time and patience to get things sorted and reorganized alone, ...*

... the experienced Specialists at Eliminate Chaos can help. And we'll be with you every step of the way.

Count on Eliminate Chaos to see the big picture but keep an eye on the details.

Before we assign the Organizing Specialist best suited for your project, we do two key things: We ask lots of questions, and we listen. Through our unique planning questionnaire and interview, we make sure we understand your lifestyle needs and your vision for the room or rooms you want organized.

On site, a Specialist conducts an assessment of each room you specify. Then we sit down with you to create a list of goals and a time frame for accomplishing them. We also discuss your budget and the need for any special organizing products. Then, our real work together begins!

You won't waste hours searching for the right products and services; we bring all of the ideas and resources you'll need, right to your door.

We will help you sort the items you use frequently from those you use rarely or not at all. We'll help sell, donate or discard the unwanted or duplicate items that are wasting valuable space. Next, we'll talk about how you use your current storage and living spaces and what systems would work better. We also can show you some of our favorite organizing products and recommend the best ones for your budget and style. Then we're ready to redesign the space in a thoughtful, efficient and attractive way.

We can recommend other reliable vendors and professionals from our network we have established through the years—from handymen and painters to companies that sell closet and garage-storage systems—to give your project its final touches. If needed, we can even act as your project manager to order and coordinate purchases and installation. But it doesn't end there.

The key to less stress and more control is learning how to easily maintain your new systems.

Before we consider the project complete, we show you how to maintain the restructured spaces; so you can enjoy the benefits for years to come.

"Every day I walk into my back bedroom and feel as if I have a new home. What a difference 8 hours of uncluttering can do to a room. It's awesome—and a pleasure to spend time there now. It has also given me the push to make sure the rest of my place is up to snuff."

-Thurbon Tukey

"Thanks to you, I can park in my garage. This is the first time in my life that I have been able to park in my garage. I am so happy and grateful every time I jump into my car and stay dry. I have remodeled my house and spent a lot of money, but I can tell you that the best money I spent was on you!"

-Kathleen Zamsky

"Today was absolutely great. Eliminate Chaos totally 'gets it,' and I don't think that everyone necessarily does. You already know this I'm sure, but I thought I'd say so. Thanks again. I'm very happy I've run across your company!"
